1. Police Body Camera Informational Presentation

Police Chief James Heavey invited the Axon Corporation to make a presentation on the capabilities of the Axon body camera. A virtual demonstration of product functions presented the hardware features and applications. BET members asked questions about software storage costs, equipment replacement, security, confidentiality, and administration. The body cameras are an evolution of the corporation's taser product enhanced with a higher resolution camera and software. The Board learned that the equipment is manufactured in Arizona and requires 8-12 weeks from order placement to completion of on-site user training. Currently costs are estimated to be $310,022 for equipment and approximately $173,000 annually for <https://evidence.com> storage.

Further work with the Police Department would allow for refining a comprehensive and accurate proposal.

At the conclusion of the presentation, Mr. Bowling asked how to plan “next steps”. Mr. Mason commented that the appointed BET Liaisons will aggregate BET members’ questions Chief Heavey indicated he will have the Axon proposal updated. The Axon guests were thanked for the thoroughness of the presentation that shared Chief Heavey’s goal of a 21st century Police Department.
