Sexual Assault Awareness Month

The Greenwich Police Department reaffirms its commitment to eliminating sexual violence, empowering survivors and their families, and providing justice to the victims of this devastating crime.

Even with the current COVID-19 pandemic, treatment for victims remain the same as before.

If you believe that you were the victim of a sexual assault in Greenwich or if you are looking for information concerning this crime, please contact the Greenwich Police Special Victims Section at (203) 622-8030.

Victims of sexual assault may also contact the Rowan Center, a sexual assault resource center, in Stamford at (203) 329-2929 for support services and consultation.
